By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

A staff report issued Thursday afternoon by the Illinois Office of Education—that Madison School District 12 needs to submit new desegregation plans to comply with state guidelines—came as a surprise to Madison school administrators.

It will be considered at a monthly meeting this Thursday of the Madison board.

"On Dec. 12, we met with Paul Woods, Frank Pankov and Gary Kerr of the Illinois Office of Education regarding our State Equal Educational Opportunity report and our report on the approval

McBride GC Steel president

Appointment of Robert D. McBride as president of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, effective immediately, was announced today by Howard M. Love, president of National Steel.

McBride has been vice president and general manager of Granite City Steel, which has about 4,800 employees and is the largest steel producer in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Love was president of the Granite City Steel and Midwest Steel divisions until his election as president of National Steel last month.

McBride, 48, joined Granite City Steel as an industrial engineer in 1956.

He was appointed general foreman in the galvanizing department in 1958.

McBride held other operating positions, including divisional superintendent, rolling and finishing departments, and assistant general manager of operations before he became vice president of operations in 1966.

He was named vice president and general manager in 1974.

McBride served as an officer in the United States Army for six years following graduation in 1950 from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. He was awarded the Silver Star and Bronze Star for valor during the Korean War.

He is a director of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers and a graduate of the Harvard Business School's Advanced Management Program.

McBride resides with his family in St. Louis County.

Longest knockout fight here in '93

(Fourth in a Bicentennial Year series)

Ever hear of Harry Sharpe or Frank Crosby?

Unless you are an avid student of boxing history or one of the really old-time residents of the Nameoki area of Madison County, chances are the names fail to stir up any memories.

Sharpe and Crosby have one claim to fame which has outlived them both — most of the witnesses to one of the strangest spectacles in pugilistic history, which occurred almost 83 years ago in Nameoki.

They were the principals in the longest "bare knuckle" boxing bout to end in a knockout which has ever taken place in America under the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

It is an odd claim to sports immortality, but one which has so many facets and repercussions that it is a tale well worth relating.

The bout took place on a cold Sunday afternoon in February of 1893 at an outdoor ring near what is now the intersection of Nameoki and Ponton roads at the northernmost limits of Granite City.

Word-of-mouth descriptions passed down by those who saw the fight vary to some degree. But they do coincide on several important and interesting points.

Chief among these are the facts that the bout was quite illegal under then current Missouri and Illinois statutes, was the longest under Queensberry rules in which one of the opponents was knocked out, and was completed without the services of a referee.

It ended in the 77th round when Sharpe decked Crosby for keeps, exactly five hours and five minutes after the two met.

2 suspects freed in robbery probe

A man and a woman who were held in the St. Louis Jail Thursday as armed robbery suspects were released Thursday night as Granite City police said they did not have sufficient evidence to hold them.

The two were being questioned about an armed robbery early Thursday at the home of Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse, 2228 Edwards St., during which more than $9,000 was taken.

Three persons participated in that robbery.

They also were being asked about an armed robbery in late December at a Granite City tavern.

Granite City police did not disclose why they took the couple into custody, but did say descriptions given by the Cruse family of the robbers did not fit in determining suspects.

Cruse said he was not asked to try and identify the suspects, since the two he saw well had been wearing ski masks, which would make it difficult to have a positive identification.

Cruse explained that $6,000 of the money the robbers took was money he borrowed from First National Bank in Madison.

He said he borrowed the money the day before each Granite City Steel payday so he could cash him checks the next day at Jacobsmeier's Tavern, which he operates.

Another $3,000 of the money was his and also was on hand to be used Friday to cash paychecks. He said, as a result of the robbery, he has discontinued the practice of keeping large sums of cash for check cashing. "The 'East Granite Bank,' is closed," Cruse said, referring to the tavern's

Cruse believes the three robbers who entered his home were aware of the amount of money he kept in the home, because after being given $3,000 in a bank bag, one robber said, "That's not enough," and demanded more money. He then was shown where the $6,000 was kept. The gunman also said he thought Cruse kept about $19,000 in the house, but Cruse said he has not kept that much for years.

The robbers also took Cruse's wallet, containing about $55 cash and a $20 check, and two rings, one being his wedding ring and another being a Masonic ring his father gave him which has a large diamond.

Cruse was struck on the back of the head by one robber, suffering a small cut which was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital. His wife, Lois, was struck several times, but was not seriously hurt.

Cruse's son, Eric, 23, was forced to lie on the floor, but was not hurt during the robbery.

The victims said they were unable to relate too many details of the robbery. "It all happened so quick," Cruse later said.

Police were told one robber displayed a gun and entered when Eric answered a knock at the front door. Mrs. Cruse came in a few minutes later, and Cruse and a friend entered minutes after that. All were forced to lie on the floor.

The other two robbers entered behind Cruse and his friend and the three participated in the robbery. The victims said they saw only one gun.

Cruse told the Press-Record, "I have a lot of confidence in our police department. I feel they will catch the people who did this."

Cruse said he never has had the need to use the services of the police investigators before and commented, "I was very impressed with how much they know about who is active in what type of crime around here. I think they will find them."

Granite City police said they do have some good clues and are continuing to investigate the Cruse robbery. They expressed confidence that an arrest will be made soon.

Optimism on steel

ROBERT D. MCBRIDE. His appointment as president of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation was announced today.

"The automobile industry, which is of particular importance to National Steel Corporation, is showing a quicker recovery in our products mix than some other customers," Howard M. Love, new president of National Steel, said Friday.

"And an upward trend extends across the entire spectrum of our customers. "As a result, 1976 will be a better shipping and sales year for us."

"We will, however, have to exercise innovative and substantive cost reduction efforts coupled with price relief when market conditions warrant — to generate acceptable levels of capital return.

"Steel production generally in 1976 should increase by approximately 20 per cent over 1975. But the industry will still be operating below the 1973-74 peak levels," Pres. Love predicted.

He continued: "Work on National's $300,000 program to round out existing steel producing facilities and increase the corporation's steelmaking capacity by about 1,000,000 tons a year moved ahead in 1975."

"This includes improvements to maximize production of Granite City Steel's 80-inch hot strip mill."

Two GC fires Sunday night

Two fires Sunday evening caused only minor damage to homes at 3016 Dale Ave. and 2228 Cleveland Boulevard.

The fire on Dale Avenue was reported at 8:15 p.m. Sunday at a home owned by George Sanders and occupied by Carolyn Bower, according to fire reports.

It is believed a cigarette was thrown away in a paper sack and set trash on fire, firemen said. The fire was restricted to the trash container and firemen were on the scene 30 minutes.

At 2228 Cleveland Blvd., the blower motor in the furnace overheated and began to burn at 11:10 p.m. Sunday. Firemen responded and turned off electric power to the house, allowing the motor to cool. They were on the scene 15 minutes.

The house is owned by Charles Jungles and is occupied by Rose Ferguson, according to fire reports.

Tuition level could exclude able students, educators say

Administrators from two of this region's community colleges feeding transfer students into Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are not in favor of a tuition hike for the senior institution. A tuition increase for students at Illinois State universities has been recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Jefferson Ware, president of State Community College at East St. Louis, comments, "To the question of whether they should raise tuition, I say, 'No'."

Thomas Juravich, vice-president for instructional services at Lewis and Clark Community College, Godfrey, says the position of the LCCC board is opposition to any tuition hikes at the state universities.

Officials contend that the tuition burden being recommended for the Illinois state university system would fall overwhelmingly on students from low-income and middle-income families living in one of the state's highest cost-of-living areas. Many students attending SCC and LCCC come from low or middle-income families.

Ware said he thinks education has a priority over other services provided by the state, and it is this priority that justifies increased amounts of educational support.

"The more you give to education, the less amount you have to give to welfare," Ware said. "Money given to welfare is almost unproductive; education is productive," he asserted.

Ware went on to say that education must be for everyone, not just for the few.

"If you lack a price on education and that price continually goes up, then you eliminate the vast majority of the people in this country who could benefit by it," Ware said.

"Intelligence is not a monopoly for people with money or people with power; it's inherent in the individual. That individual may come from the very poorest or from the very wealthiest family.

"You just have to allow people, all people, the availability of good educational institutions from the first grade right until they decide to quit going to school," Ware said.

He went on to say that this might not be until they are 85 or 90 years old.

Ware feels that all the layers of time designated in the educational process are meaningless.

"A person starts to school and he should quit learning when he dies. Higher tuition would exclude many older people from the learning process," Ware feels.

Both administrators admitted that if SIUE would increase tuition, it would not pose any hardships on their own students. However, it could pose problems for their graduates wishing to further their education at the senior institution.

Approximately 75 per cent of the students attending SCC receive some type of financial aid, Ware said.

According to Juravich, the percentage receiving aid at LCCC is more like 65 per cent. But Juravich says that figure may be low.

If SIUE should raise its tuition, it might not make a difference to those students, provided they could get the same kind of support when they transferred to SIUE. But for students who are marginal, Ware said, they would be unable to continue beyond the two-year associate degree, and it might make some marginal who are not receiving aid and who are not receiving aid and who are not receiving aid.

The premise on which SIUE was founded was to provide economical, quality educational training for the people in this region. If you continually raise tuition, then you'll get to the point where you are not serving the people. You will be serving those who could afford to go to SIUE. That means the wealthy," Ware said.

"I don't think education should be for the elite only. I think it should be for everybody. The more you raise tuition, the fewer people you have. You are not serving the community which you are supposed to be serving," Ware emphasized.

Educators have found that raised tuition, even when mitigated by state aid, is a significant deterrent to low-income students seeking higher education.

Studies have shown that for every $100 of tuition increase, there is a two per cent drop in college enrollment from families earning $7,500 to $15,000 per year.

Ware feels that state institutions should not be forced into a position of raising tuition to the extent that they rule out state citizens. "And that's exactly what they are doing."

"By raising the tuition, taxes from everyone will be used to educate the few. Not the masses, not the average person, and I think that's wrong," Ware concluded.

Steve Bristol will head GC Rotarians

Steve Bristol, a local realtor and appraiser, was elected by Granite City Rotarians at a weekly luncheon last week as their president for the year beginning July 1.

Currently chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board here, Bristol is active in Hope Lutheran Church. He is the Rotary club's 1974-75 first vice-president.

The club also elected Donald Van Horn as first vice-president, President Bill H. Terrell as next second vice-president, Robert Stevens as secretary, John Smith as assistant secretary, Earl Dotzauer as treasurer, Paul Soko as assistant treasurer, James Bowman as sergeant-at-arms, Raymond Tewis as assistant sergeant-at-arms and Richard West, Harold Knapp and Donald Partney as members of the board of directors.

Private schools tax exempt if desegregated, IRS rules

The Internal Revenue Service has issued a ruling recognizing the tax-exempt status of an Illinois private school that has announced a racially non-discriminatory policy in admission of students to all activities of the school, Ira S. Leob, district director of Internal Revenue, said last week. The school is the Bellview Baptist Christian School, 310 Oakwood, Alton.

The ruling has been issued under the statement of position announced by the IRS on July 10, 1970, concerning the tax-exempt status of private schools. In that statement the IRS concluded that it could no longer legally justify recognizing exempt status to private schools that practice racial discrimination. Nor can it allow gifts to such schools to be treated as charitable deductions for income tax purposes. The IRS position is applicable to all private schools throughout the United States.

The Bellview Baptist Christian School publicized its racially non-discriminatory admissions policy in a local newspaper on Nov. 15, 1975. Where a school has publicly announced a racially non-discriminatory policy, Leob explained that for purposes of issuing a ruling the IRS will assume that such a policy has been adopted and will be maintained in good faith. This is in accord with normal IRS procedures in processing requests for rulings based on future activities.

Leob stressed that the IRS maintains a vigorous program of auditing tax exempt organizations. Examinations of private schools will take into account any complaints from the public or information from other sources that would indicate non-compliance with assurances made by the schools to the IRS.

If an examination indicates that a school has not administered its non-discriminatory policy in good faith, the tax exempt status of the school will be challenged. Should an existing ruling to a private school be revoked as a result of a challenge, Leob said that persons contributing to the school will be allowed to deduct contributions made before the date of the IRS notice of withdrawal of advance assurance of deductibility.

However, this assurance of deductibility of prior contributions does not extend to persons who, know or are responsible for activities that result in disqualification of the organization. This follows the usual IRS rules and procedures on contributions.

Services held for Mrs. Lura Thomas

Funeral services were held Saturday at a Corning, Ark., funeral home for Mrs. Lura Thomas, 76, of 2182 Lee Ave., who died at 3 p.m. Wednesday at her home.

She had been ill four months of a heart ailment.

Mrs. Thomas was born in Clay County, Ark., and resided here seven years.

She was a member of the Emmanuel Baptist Church. Her husband, Benjamin Thomas, died Aug. 13, 1965.

Survivors include three sons, James Cochran and Ronald Thomas, both of St. Louis, and Donald Thomas of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Edward (Gladys) Green of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Lena M. Burns of Detroit; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Burial was in the Corning City Cemetery, Corning, Ark.

Big supply of gasoline, heating oil

High year-end inventories of gasoline and heating oil should ensure adequate supplies during the remainder of the winter, even if the weather should turn severely cold, Amoco Oil Company said last week in Chicago.

President Walter R. Peirson attributed the inventory buildup to a combination of unseasonably mild early-winter weather, a slower-than-expected economic recovery and higher 1975 refinery runs. Amoco's year-end distillate inventories totaled 24.5 million barrels, about 1.9 million barrels above the same period a year ago.

Gasoline inventories at year-end were 24.3 million barrels, slightly higher than 1974 end-of-the-year levels.

Refinery runs during the past year averaged 975,000 barrels daily, compared to 935,000 barrels per day in 1974. Last June, Amoco set an all-time company production record of 1,333,000 barrels at its built-up gasoline stocks for the summer vacation season.

Peirson said a normal cut-back in refinery crude runs — about 3 1/2 per cent of capacity — was made in early December when production began to exceed the company's storage capabilities. He said further cutbacks may be necessary if the low demand continues.

"The combined gasoline and distillate inventories put our system at the usable maximum level," he said, adding that the Chicago-based company had to rent outside storage to contain the higher-than-normal stocks.

Peirson emphasized that because Amoco's crude oil inventories also are high — 22 million barrels at year-end — and because standby refining capacity could significantly boost distillate production if the need should arise.

BAND MEETING

Plexiglass was removed from a window to gain entry to the television room at the Granite City Park District (Lincoln School) Community Center, 822 Niedringhaus Ave., and to steal the television, it was discovered 7:10 a.m. Saturday. The plexiglass was returned to the window as the burglars left, police believe. Nothing else was known missing or disturbed.

Paddlers annual meeting Jan. 20

The 19th annual meeting of Paddlers, Inc., local private swim club, will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 20, in the cafeteria at St. Elizabeth School, 2300 Pontoon Road. Five new directors to serve three-year terms will be elected and two members will be chosen for the nominating committee to serve for one year.

Candidates for the directorships, to date, are Al Barnes, Josephine Dial, Pat Early, Rose Hilker and Wayne Robinson. Joe Hassler and Roy Ponce are seeking the nominating committee posts.

Representatives from each member-family are being encouraged to attend the Jan. 20 meeting and hear plans for the new season and give their views on various projects currently under consideration by the club's board of directors, officers said.

Paddlers' twin pool facility is located at 221 Johnson Road.

Charged after two accidents

Terry Miller, 21, who has given authorities three different addresses, was charged with leaving the scene of a vehicle damage accident and driving while under the influence of liquor after two accidents in the early morning hours Saturday.

Miller, who was injured in the accidents and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital, gave police addresses in the 2500 block of Washington Avenue and the 1300 block of State Street. He told hospital officials he lives in the 2400 block of Cardinal Avenue.

It is alleged the auto of Charles Wittkowski, 3045 Washington Ave., was slowing for a traffic light on Nameki Road at Peeling Road at 12:50 a.m. Saturday and another car struck the rear of Wittkowski's auto.

The second auto then drove around the Wittkowski car and left west on Peeling Road, it was alleged. Wittkowski returned to his car and said he chased the hit and run vehicle on Peeling Road and 27th Street to 27th and State streets where it allegedly struck the parked car of Debbie Winfield, 511 Fleming Place, Mitchell, pushing that car into a tree.

The auto being chased then left the scene, but stopped at 28th and State streets, due to mechanical problems.

Police arrived and took Miller into custody, alleging he was the driver of the hit and run auto. He was taken to the City Jail and later was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with pain to his back and possible head injuries.

Car hits appliance store front

Two young men were injured when their car failed to negotiate a turn from Madison Avenue onto northbound Nameki Road and crashed into the front of Tri-City Radio Service Co., 3130 Nameki Road, at 12:50 a.m. Sunday.

The car broke three plate glass windows in the front of the building. The driver, Douglas Doyle, 18, of 2808 Dogwood Drive, was charged with careless driving.

A police officer said he saw the auto passing other cars on Nameki Road and turned the police car around to follow the auto. When the squad car got to the turn, the officer saw the car in front of the broken windows of the store.

Doyle and a passenger in the car, Mark Summers, 18, of 2623 North St., suffered minor injuries but declined offers to be taken to the hospital.

New levee budget is down $306,640

A 1978 budget of $2,272,855, a decrease of $306,640 below last year's appropriations, was approved by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees in a meeting at East St. Louis last week.

The new budget which will be placed on file for public inspection for 30 days includes $1,345,000 in the general fund, a reduction of $165,000 below last year's general fund appropriations totaling $1,510,000. The general fund budget includes $600,000 for project expenditures, down $28,000; $60,000 for engineering purposes, up $25,000; $450,000 for general maintenance, down $200,000; and $235,000 for administration, up $35,000.

The appropriation for payment of bond principal and interest was set at $732,855, a decrease of $147,640 below the 1977 budget of $880,295. Other projected expenditures in separate tax accounts include $20,000 for liability insurance, up $5,000; $150,000 for municipal retirement, same as last year; and $25,000 for auditing, which also is unchanged from last year.

The budget will remain on public display until Feb. 16 when the levee board will conduct a public hearing and a special meeting in which the budget will be approved. A new tax levy will be adopted in that session.

The levee district's fiscal year is the same as the calendar year.

The present trustees are due to be replaced in December by a new board whose members will be appointed by the County Boards of Madison and St. Clair Counties.

The new budget will not eliminate a substantial general fund deficit which the district has been carrying in recent years.

Contracts for expansion of heating plant

Contracts totaling $1,342,372 have been awarded for the heating and refrigeration plant expansion project of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and a pre-construction conference is scheduled for tomorrow, according to Charles N. Moorleghen, director of the SIUE physical plant.

Moorleghen said work on the project is expected to proceed immediately after the conference.

The Illinois Capital Development Board opened bids on the construction work Dec. 9. The board notified SIUE officials that the successful bidders are: Ralph Korte Construction, Highland, general work, $57,700; Gross Engineering Co., St. Louis, piping work, $691,300; and Wegman Electric Co., Wood River, electrical work, $109,100.

Contracts for equipment for the project, totaling $440,272, were awarded in April last year. The equipment includes a 1,600-ton electrical centrifugal chiller and a 60-million-BTU high temperature hot water generator.

Funds for the project were released to the CDB by the governor's office in October 1974.

CASH, TV SETS TAKEN
Cash, two television sets and a handgun were stolen from the home of Dr. Obert M. Lay in the 2200 block of Woodlawn Ave., last week. Entry was gained by tampering with a door. Two bedrooms were ransacked and the attic door was opened.

January hearing on license revocation

A hearing at Springfield by the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission on the appeal of an order revoking the liquor license of Rico's II, 3675 Nameki Road, is expected to be held the latter part of this month. City Attorney George Filcoff told the Granite City Council last week.

Filcoff, who represented the city at a hearing which resulted in an order by Mayor Paul Schuler revoking the license, outlined procedures of the appeal action following presentation to the council of a letter sent to the mayor by attorneys for operators of Rico's II, and a copy of the appeals bill filed with the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission.

Council members voted to place both communications on file after brief discussion of the letter which explained actions taken by the tavern operators to meet objections by city officials to a series of disturbances, thefts and other occurrences at the tavern.

The hearing by Mayor Schuler on revocation of the license followed a fatal shooting and a stabbing at the tavern on Dec. 8.

The letter sent to Mayor Schuler, signed by John D. Bauman, Belleville attorney for Rico's II, said:

"Following our hearing of last Monday on the suspension of liquor license of Rico's II, I felt that it might be of interest to you and perhaps the City Council that the management of Rico's II is deeply concerned about recent events that have taken place on or about their premises and consequently, are making a conscientious effort to prevent a recurrence, as well as prevent other activities which you and the council may not deem in the best interest of the citizens of Granite City."

"As we discussed and presented in evidence at the hearing before you, the manager of Rico's II have a very substantial financial investment in the establishment which benefits the city and, of course, which they stand to lose in the event they are not allowed to remain open."

"Following discussion with you and with the chief of detectives, the following steps have been taken in an attempt to prevent a recurrence of undesirable activities as well as exhibit the complete spirit of cooperation of the management with your office and that of the police."

"Two of the alleged troublemaking employees of Rico's II have been discharged. A new manager has been employed to replace the old manager."

"One of the bartenders who seemed to be a problem has been replaced."

"Two independent security guards have been employed. A lengthy meeting with all employees has been held in structuring them with respect to the conduct of themselves as well as customers."

"A tightening policy has been instituted with respect to entry and exit to the establishment as well as identification of customers with respect to age."

"Closer surveillance by the management of all employees and activities is being instituted."

"We are hopeful that the above steps will help us comply with the spirit of conduct that you would desire and that the business will be beneficial both to the city of Granite City and management of Rico's II as a result thereof."

"We thank you for your consideration to allowing us to continue our operation and if we can cooperate with you or the police in any other manner, please feel free to contact us."

In reference to the letter, Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward told the council, "All testimony at the hearing was to the effect that the place did not have a manager. How can they replace a manager they said they didn't have?"

Alderman Frank Greenwald of the Second Ward commented, "What is unfortunate about this is that they (the management) should have done all this before the trouble started."

The appeal bill filed with the state liquor commission, signed by Anthony Augustine as president of Fran-Ton, Inc., doing business as Rico's II, a copy of which also was filed by the council Monday night, said:

"Now comes the appellant, Anthony Augustine and Fran-Ton, Inc., d-b-a Rico's II by Wagner, Bertrand, Bauman & Schindler, their attorneys, and represents unto the Illinois Liquor Control Commission as follows:

"1. That the appellant, Fran-Ton, Inc., d-b-a Rico's II is an Illinois corporation doing business in the city of Granite City, Madison County, Ill.,

"2. That the appellants have heretofore been granted a license to sell liquor, beer, wine and whiskey at retail at 3675 Nameki Road, Granite City, Ill., as aforesaid.

"3. That at all times said appellants have conducted their place of business known as Rico's II as a place of good repute according to the statutes and ordinances in such cases made and provided.

"4. That Paul Schuler, local liquor control commissioner of Granite City, Ill., on Dec. 19, 1975, issued a notice of intention to revoke the liquor license heretofore issued to appellants, and on Dec. 19, 1975, issued a ruling finding that the license be closed for seven days as stated in notice of Dec. 19, 1975, all of which is attached hereto and incorporated herein as exhibits 1 and 2 of appellants."

"5. That said local liquor control commissioner served notice of a public hearing to be held before him on Dec. 23, 1975, to determine whether the appellants' liquor license would be revoked for a violation of the dram shop act, to-wit: Chapter 43, Illinois Revised Statutes, 1973, and the rules and regulations of the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission and violations of the City Code of the City of Granite City, Ill.,

Chapter 28, Sections 28.201, 28.205 and Ordinance No. 3274 and Ordinance No. 3275, and Illinois Revised Statutes Chapter 38, Sections 12-1, 12-2, 12-3 and 12-4, 1973 and Chapter 38, Section 31-5, Illinois Revised Statutes, 1973, and Chapter 38, Sections 31-5 and 37-1, Illinois Revised Statutes, 1973 relating to the permitting of numerous fights, assaults, batteries of patrons and employees, and an intent to prevent apprehension of offender or offenders and for allowing a disturbance wherein a shooting and stabbing occurred on the premises.

"6. That thereafter pursuant to the said notice, a said public hearing was held on Dec. 23, 1975, before the said Liquor Control Commission.

"7. That thereafter the said Liquor Control Commissioner issued his order dated Dec. 23, 1975, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof marked Exhibit 3.

"8. That the action of said local Liquor Control Commissioner and proceedings had were not in the manner provided by law; the order attached hereto is not supported by the evidence and the order is not supported by substantial evidence in the light of the whole record."

"9. That the action of the said local Liquor Control Commissioner is and was wholly contrary to the law and contrary to the evidence and there was no legal or factual basis to make the findings made or to decide to take any further action, and said order should be expunged.

"Wherefore, the appellants appeal from the said decision of the said local Liquor Control Commissioner to the Illinois Liquor Control Commission and request a hearing thereon."

Federal career exams

The location of the Professional and Administrative Career Examination (PACE) to be given at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Saturday, Jan. 17, has been changed.

David Van Horn, director of University Placement Service, said the examination will be held in Room 1402 of the Peck Classroom Building. Van Horn said it was necessary to change the location because of a larger number of applicants than anticipated.

The PACE examination is a means of entry into federal civil service for college graduates and others with appropriate responsible work experiences.

Career opportunities offered through the test include positions in social services, investigative and law enforcement, and administrative and management support.

Applications also will be accepted from students who expect to complete, within nine months, courses that would permit them to meet the requirements of the examination.

The next examination will be given in February. To be eligible to take the examination, individuals must complete and mail application forms to the St. Louis area office of the Civil Service Commission on or before Jan. 20. These forms may be obtained from the University Placement Service office at SIUE.

Upon receipt of the application by the St. Louis office, an admission ticket and other forms will be mailed to the applicant. Applicants without the proper credentials will not be admitted to the examination room, Van Horn said.

Applicants receive their test results within four to six weeks following the examination.

The PACE written test also will be given at SIUE during March, April and May 1976.

During the winter quarter, the University Placement Service office will remain open on Wednesday and Thursday evenings until 8 o'clock to serve students unable to visit the office during the normal working hours of 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mexican Commission elects four trustees

The Mexican Honorary Commission elected four new trustees to two-year terms at its meeting last week at the group's new club facility, 1801 Spruce St.

Named to commission trusteeships were Norma Mendoza, John Valencia, Robert Martinez and Juvenal Mendoza.

New members voted into the club were Earl Adams, Emanuel Valencia Jr., Julie Mendoza, Paul Herrera, Elizabeth Sitzer, Jesse Becerra and Pete Skundrich.

Robert Robles, president, announced the "Amigo of the Year" award was presented to Otilio Valencia Jr. at a New Year's Eve dance. The award is bestowed annually upon a member whose efforts on the club's behalf are considered "most outstanding."

Donald Valencia, Christmas basket chairman, said the project was "very successful" and expressed appreciation to those who helped. A total of eight food baskets was delivered to families by the club, he said.

Members voted funds to decorate a float, under the supervision of Miss Lisa Garcia, for the community's Bicentennial parade.

Various athletic teams sponsored by the commission will benefit from a dance planned Feb. 14, Robles reported.

OTILIO VALENCIA JR., winner of the Mexican Honorary Commission's 'Amigo of the Year' award for 'outstanding' service to the club.

He also announced Harold Broyles and Anthony Allemen as winners of $50 U.S. Savings Bonds.

Date for the traditional "Cinco de Mayo" fiesta was set for May 14, with the event to take place at the Croatian Hall in Madison.

After the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. Dinner was served by Donald Valencia and Sue Drake, host and hostess for the occasion.

Dance concert at SIUE Jan. 16

Raymond Johnson's contemporary dance will highlight a concert at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Friday, Jan. 16, in the Communications Building theater.

Johnson combines his own choreography with the works of James Waring and Rudy Perez in a solo performance. His growing repertoire for both solo and company programs emphasize highly individualistic styles in dance.

The native of New York City began his work with Murray Louis and Alvin Nikolai and toured with both their companies from 1962 to 1971.

He since has performed with several other companies, including the X (Experimental) Dance Theater and the American Dance Festival Repertory Company.

This year, Johnson has returned to New York to continue his work with the Raymond Johnson Dance Company based in Woodstock. The company will not be with him.

Tickets for the 8:15 p.m. performance are available at the University Center box office at SIUE. Seats may be purchased at $2.50 for non-students and $1.50 for SIUE students.

There were because they were involved in spirited side betting. The odds rules held that one of the illegal aspects of the fight which led to the arrest of both participants after the match had ended.

But more of that later. WHAT PROMPTED two men to stage such a fight in the first place?

It all began when the old Pastime Athletic Club in St. Louis brought Frank Crosby down from Milwaukee to serve as trainer for club fighters in 1893.

Crosby had a fine reputation as a trainer and, in addition, was a lightweight of considerable merit.

He had not been at Pastime long before his owners began causing about for an opponent for Crosby in hopes of increasing the club's prestige.

To Crosby's backers, Sharpe was the logical selection. Harry had won the Missouri lightweight title two years earlier. If he could be persuaded to defend his crown against Crosby, the Pastime AC would be successful in gaining the attention it was seeking.

Pastime representatives contacted Sharpe's manager, Frank Daley, who agreed to a title match, the purse to be $500, winner take all.

The articles of agreement were drawn up in St. Louis in November of 1893, and provided for a fight to the finish with three-ounce gloves under the Marquis of Queensberry rules.

The fighters were to box three-minute rounds and rest one minute, and the fight would end only if one of the participants was knocked out or could not continue.

Rules for the Nameoki fight were drawn from the Prize Ring system which guided so many bare knuckle brawls in the late 1800s.

The odds rules held that a round was completed when one of the fighters was knocked down, fell, was thrown to the ground by his opponent or simply got tired and dropped to one knee.

Strictly speaking, the Sharpe-Crosby fight agreement was not a bare knuckle pact, but the three-ounce gloves were little more than a thin covering of the hands, offering little protection to knuckles—or the opponent's head and body.

The state lightweight title bout was scheduled in St. Louis on Jan. 31, 1893. Both fighters trained diligently during the two months between signing and fight date.

They worked out daily in St. Louis gyms, being careful to avoid one another and also avoid outside roadwork as often as the weather would allow.

About a week before the fight, both began to put more emphasis on boxing and timing, wearing heavy training shoes on the theory that they would increase speed when traded for regular ring footwear.

Both boys were anxious to be in top condition as a boxer who signed for a "finish fight" had to be in condition or he usually backed out.

Most were arriving by train. The articles of agreement took into account such a circumstance; they provided for the forfeit of $150 by the corner of the fighter who failed to scale at 133 pounds the day of the match.

Both men hit the required weight on the nose, and both appeared in top physical condition.

The ring was set up in South

2 hearings on grant for 200 new buses

The Bi-State Development Agency held two public hearings on a $21 million capital grant application for new buses, shelters and other equipment on Wednesday, Jan. 21, at St. Louis and Thursday, Jan. 22, at East St. Louis Senior High School, 4901 State St.

Both hearings will begin at 3:30 p.m. Free bus service to the hearing sites will be provided.

A special telephone line has been installed at the Bi-State office for persons seeking information about the grant, the hearings or needing bus service. The number to call is 771-2690.

The grant application totals $21,000,000, with 90 per cent being requested from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

The remaining 10 per cent ($2,100,000) will be contributed by funds from the Illinois Department of Transportation and revenue from the half-cent transportation sales tax collected in the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County.

Plans call for purchase of 200 new air conditioned buses with two-way radios, plus 50 professional shelters, a new automated fare collection system, shop equipment and other items of importance to continued operation and maintenance of the bus system.

Copies of the grant application can be reviewed at the offices of the Bi-State Development Agency, 3869 Park Ave., St. Louis.

The hearings, held in accordance with requirements of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, will afford an opportunity for interested persons or agencies to testify with respect to the social, economic and environmental aspects of the project. Interested persons may submit oral or written recommendations concerning the proposed purchases.

SUE FEE DEADLINE
Deadline for payment of winter quarter fees at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been extended through tonight, according to Ken Hacker, bursar.

The bursar's office will be open until 7 this evening. The deadline, originally last Wednesday, was extended because of weather conditions.

The hearing sites will be provided.

Darkness fell and Dr. Ed

Rode, one of those close at ringside, helped round up lanterns and torches so that the fight might continue.

Referee Garnett, having a hard time keeping warm in the chilly ring, began to imbibe in liquid refreshment provided by a few crows behind the ropes—between rounds, of course.

The trampled mud around the dance floor began to freeze, and a good many of the spectators returned to the relative warmth of the railroad cars.

Fifty rounds went by. The fighters were dead tired but still game. They had enough remaining energy to cuff one another as clinches were broken, and brought into play all the underhanded tricks which were quite legal before the turn of the century.

Garnett did not seem to mind, either, at this point. Some said he appeared more interested in the between-rounds stimulation.

Crosby's legs began to go. Sharpe sensed this, and had Sharpe before the fight that if it

St. Louis, but before the fighters could begin police stepped in and stopped the proceedings, much to the chagrin of those who already had bets made as to the outcome.

Most of the bets made down, however, since Al Spinks of the Pastime AC soon made arrangements to have the match staged in Nameoki, a thriving little Illinois community not far from St. Louis, noted for its production of fine pork-crops and easily reached by rail.

The fight was now scheduled to take place out-of-doors in Johnson Park, which lay within a stone's throw of the Nameoki railroad station.

Considerable interest in the fight had been aroused when it was first scheduled. When word of its new location got around, train reservations began to pick up as far north as Decatur, Ill., and whole trains were chartered, all with Nameoki, Ill., as their destination.

IT SNOWED EVERY DAY during the first week of February, 1893.

When Sharpe and Crosby reached Nameoki the day of the fight, they found that a dance floor had been roped off to form a ring in the center of a picnic grove.

Workmen were scooping and leveling the snow off the boardwalk and a crowd which later swelled to an estimated 1000 persons was beginning to gather.

Most were arriving by train. They stomped and milled around as ring, trying to keep warm.

It was a miserable afternoon, cold and dark, with a light mist falling.

Crosby and Sharpe, bareheaded but clad in the skintight, ankle-length tights of the fight profession, entered the ring and immediately threw blankets about their shoulders as protection from the damp cold.

As was the usual case in such fights, the referee was selected at random from among the on-lookers. That unhappy individual was chosen to referee the fight.

Mr. Garnett, by no means a professional referee, was told to be around to see the fight finish. He got the bout under way by calling the opponents to the ring and telling them: "Boys, be fair."

Crosby, the better boxer of the two by Sharpe's own admission, skinned the left side of Sharpe's body from ears to waist in the first 10 rounds, and the fight 3-0-0 odds looked good at that point.

Sharpe had trouble avoiding his opponent's quick left hand, and Crosby rewarded him by drawing first blood.

Other side bets had been made among the spectators as to who would score the first knockout. Sharpe's supporters collected on this one and, after the 30th round, Crosby was able to avoid Sharpe's left now and then and do some damage of his own.

By the 40th round the odds were even. The light mist had changed to sleet and then to snow.

The trampling Sharpe had taken early in the fight began to show. His left eye was swollen shut and the right was closing fast.

A man named Daley, better known as "Daddy" Daley, stepped into the ring, slapping Sharpe's right eyelid and drew off enough blood to give Harry at least partial vision.

Darkness fell and Dr. Ed Rode, one of those close at ringside, helped round up lanterns and torches so that the fight might continue.

Referee Garnett, having a hard time keeping warm in the chilly ring, began to imbibe in liquid refreshment provided by a few crows behind the ropes—between rounds, of course.

The trampled mud around the dance floor began to freeze, and a good many of the spectators returned to the relative warmth of the railroad cars.

Fifty rounds went by. The fighters were dead tired but still game. They had enough remaining energy to cuff one another as clinches were broken, and brought into play all the underhanded tricks which were quite legal before the turn of the century.

Garnett did not seem to mind, either, at this point. Some said he appeared more interested in the between-rounds stimulation.

Crosby's legs began to go. Sharpe sensed this, and had Sharpe before the fight that if it lasted past the 30th round he felt his chances of winning would be greatly increased.

Crosby's seconds, headed by a cocky little English middleweight by the name of Tom Kelly, apparently saw it too.

Sharpe charged Crosby's corner at the opening of a round in an attempt to catch the Milwaukee out guard, and was given a facel of water thrown from a bucket wielded by Kelly—followed by Crosby's left hand, which had test most of its sting by this time.

Neither fighter's blows seemed to have any effect, since both men were weaker and a combination of so many punches and the cold air had numbed their faces.

Another Sharpe charge went astray, and a fellow among the 300 bare souls still on hand, complaining that Harry had punched him in the stomach, filled Sharpe's tender eyes with a well-directed stream of tobacco juice.

As the 65th round began, Referee Garnett, more than a little weary from his numerous trips to the whiskey jug, rolled out of the ring and called it quits.

Crosby and Sharpe fought on—without any supervision.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END for Crosby came near the conclusion of the 76th round, with over five hours having elapsed since the fight had commenced.

The two fighters clinched and, partly from exhaustion, fell to the freezing wooden floor together. Crosby had the misfortune to land on the bottom, striking his head.

He was not ready when the 77th round began and stood in his corner half-dazed, unable to lift his arms.

Sharpe, no man to pass up such an opportunity, mustered his remaining strength, dogtrotted to the opposite corner and landed a solid right on Crosby's exposed jaw.

Frank fell forward to his knees, and Sharpe knocked him out with another right hand punch.

BOTH MEN HAD ABANDONED their technique, hardly worth the $500 prize and most assuredly not worth the two weeks each spent recovering in bed—or the 11-month jail terms dished out by authorities who arrested both fighters after they had regenerated.

Oddly enough, Harry Sharpe later helped draw up the first boxing code when fighting became legal in Missouri.

He remained a familiar figure in the ring for another half-dozen years, and then turned his back to the refreshing of both boxing and wrestling events at the old West End Club in St. Louis.

He also served as a judge and referee in the Allied Expeditionary Forces and in the Amateur Championships in Paris in 1919.

A native of Canada, he returned after the war to St. Louis where he refereed wrestling exclusively. He was assaulted and injured by a mob following an unpopular decision in a fight between two local fighters.

SHARPE RETURNED TO NAMEOKI and the scene of the fight in 1939. Those who were present, including some witnesses to the fight, say that there were tears in the old gentleman's eyes as he recalled the occasion of 46 years previously.

He sustained other injuries in a 1940 automobile accident and gave up his activities to become an insurance broker. He died of infirmities on April 13, 1949, at the age of 78.

Nothing more of the fight of Frank Crosby after the Nameoki fight. It was reported that he returned to Milwaukee and died at an early age.

If the two bare knuckle pugilists could return to the scene of their strange meeting today, they would scarcely recognize the site.

A trailer court and construction buildings have infringed upon the grove of trees which once stood there, almost crowding out a tall wooden marker which reads:

"The longest fight ever to go to a knock out (Queensberry rules), Harry Sharpe, K.O'd Frank Crosby in the 77th round (5 hours, 5 minutes), Nameoki, Feb. 5, 1893."

Bloodworth indicted in GC murder case

Barry Bloodworth, 24, Bunker Hill, Ill., was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Thursday on a charge of murder.

Bloodworth allegedly was found with a recently-fired 9 millimeter pistol in his hand, standing over Gregory Ehlers, 28, of 4494 Vine St., Dec. 7, outside a mobile home at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road, police reported.

Mr. Ehlers was suffering from four bullet wounds at that time and was bleeding profusely, an officer who was at the scene related.

The victim was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was ordered transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, but died enroute.

The first officer to arrive at the shooting scene reported Bloodworth surrendered without incident. He was being held today in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

The grand jury Thursday also indicted Diametris D. Comp-ton, 26, of 1222 College St., Venice, alleging burglary.

He is charged with burglarizing the home of Jesse Thompson, 1119 Douglas St., Venice, Nov. 12, removing money and a gun.

Turner ruled off ballot

George Turner of East Alton who filed nominating petitions last month both as a candidate for county recorder of deeds and for County Board member of district 14 (Wood River) will not be listed on either ballot in the March 16 primary elections, County Clerk Evelyn Bowles reported last week.

Miss Bowles said her ruling is based on an opinion by Donald L. Smith, assistant state attorney, who noted that state law provides that a candidate who files for two offices that are incompatible may not run for either office.

Turner filed for the two offices during the filing period and later sent a letter to the county clerk's office to withdraw.

Boy awakes family to escape fire

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William (Darlene) Skaggs, Rural Route One, Box 49, on Sand Prairie Lane, an adjoining garage and an automobile were destroyed by fire at 5:50 a.m. Friday. The loss exceeded $36,000.

Mrs. Skaggs was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she complained of smoke inhalation. She was treated and released to see her own physician.

The two Skaggs children, Deborah, 11, and son Terry, 15, escaped injury as the house was on its way to work when the fire broke out.

Mrs. Skaggs credited her safe with saving her and her daughter's life as she awakened them and helped them from the house.

Terry reportedly beat on his mother's bedroom door and called that the house was on fire.

Mrs. Skaggs said she had some trouble finding the door due to the smoke and breathed heavy amounts of smoke which necessitated her going to the hospital.

An explosion occurred as the flames reached the gas tank of the car in the garage.

Long Lake Fire Chief Arnold C. Rutherford said the house was completely destroyed along with the adjoining garage and car. The freezing weather and ice caused some problems in fighting the fire, he said.

A fire from Mick's Garage, Mitchell, for $292 for repairs to a street department truck was ordered held pending a check of the work done. Trustee Keith Biggs agreed to discuss the bill with garage officials prior to recommending it be paid.

All other bills were ordered paid.

The board had been expected to appoint a new building inspector, but Moss said he did not have a recommendation and would make an appointment at a future meeting for board consideration. The post has been vacant since the last meeting when the board dismissed its previous building inspector.

The congregation of St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church will celebrate the 75th anniversary of the church on April 21, followed by several events which will be open to the public to mark the diamond anniversary of the oldest Catholic Church in Granite City.

To commemorate the occasion, Father Henry Mack, pastor of the parish, has appointed Mrs. Alvenette Metcalf as chairman of a planning committee.

Building obtained to house Pontoon street equipment

An informal agreement between Illini Federal Savings & Loan Association, Alton, and the Pontoon Beach Village Board is expected to provide a place for the village to house street department trucks while reducing vandalism to a vacant building owned by Illini, it was announced during Friday evening's village board meeting.

The building being considered is an abandoned car wash located on Lake Drive near the Village Hall. Terms of the agreement were discussed among the board members, but the board's attorney, Paul Guzzardo, suggested the village use the building under a "gentleman's agreement" and not be committed to a written contract.

Illini has agreed to repair the building if the village will assume the responsibility of maintaining the building and lot until court cases to establish the building's ownership are settled.

Illini also is to carry liability insurance on the building it was reported.

Duane Skinner, chairman of the village's finance committee, said he feels the police department should provide aid to persons who are not sure where they reside in the village and must know in order to properly prepare their federal income tax forms.

Skinner said if persons in the village do not indicate that on the federal forms, the village will not receive federal revenue sharing funds for that person. Revenue sharing is distributed on the basis of population. The board agreed and persons not sure whether they reside in the election would be subject to office for a two-year term. Mayor Schuler told the Press-Record Friday that at this point he has not considered anyone for the post.

"I haven't given the matter any thought at this time," he said. "I have no one in mind for the office," the mayor said.

The Granite City council considers from each of seven wards. One alderman in each ward is elected to four year terms in alternating elections two years apart.

Thus Granite City voters would elect seven aldermen every two years, with a mayor also elected each four year. Mr. Nomm had not attended City Council sessions since he was stricken in mid-August with severe heart attack that kept him in an intensive care unit for nearly a month and in Incarnate Word Hospital, St. Louis, until late September.

After returning home to recuperate, he went back to the hospital last Oct. 9 to undergo heart surgery.

Credit rules ban sex discrimination

New regulations published by the Federal Reserve System forbid discrimination by creditors on the basis of sex or marital status.

The Equal Credit Opportunity Act will not be fully implemented until Feb. 1, 1977, but the key provisions prohibiting discriminatory practices are already in effect.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, the new regulations have two major features: sex or marital status may not be used in determining credit worthiness; and, upon request, an applicant must be given the reasons when credit is denied or terminated.

The regulations cover all businesses that regularly extend credit, including banks, finance companies, department stores and credit card issuers. Under the new regulations, creditors may not inquire into birth control practices or childbearing intentions of an applicant, or assume by an applicant's age that she or her spouse may drop out of the labor force due to childbearing.

Part-time income may not be discounted by a creditor, although the creditor may examine the probable continuity of the applicant's job. Questions concerning alimony, child support and maintenance payments may still be asked of either a spouse making such payments or a spouse receiving them. An applicant who is receiving such payments must answer these questions if the payments are being relied upon to obtain the credit and to repay the debt.

Creditors may determine their own methods for notifying applicants of the reasons credit is denied or terminated. The notification may be given either in written form or orally.

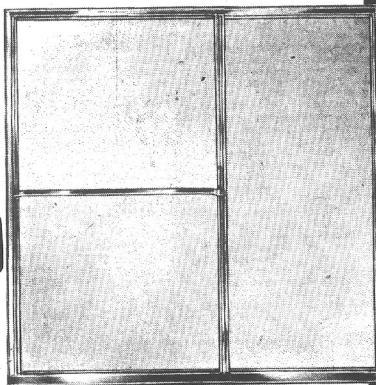

The ISBA notes that the new regulations make it optional for an applicant to designate a title, such as Mr., Mrs., Ms. or Miss, on a credit application. Creditors may not prohibit an applicant from opening or maintaining an account in a birth-given first name and surname. But in the case of an applicant for credit relying on the creditworthiness of the non-applicant spouse, the creditor may seek information on both parties to consider whether to extend credit.

$100,000 Ainal aid to crippled in 1975

For the first time in the history of the "Bonds for Braces" program at Ainal Temple, home of 8,500 Shriners in Southern Illinois, the Temple has gone over the $100,000 mark in government savings bonds given to the St. Louis Unit of Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children for a 12-month period. Potentate William R. Popkess, Belleville insurance executive, head of the Temple, has presented the final $52,000 in bonds to Hospital Board Chairman William H. Chapman to complete the year's contribution.

The program for U.S. government bonds was started at Ainal Temple 23 years ago, and each year it has grown higher in the amount raised.

The U.S. Department of the Treasury, Savings Bond Division, has recognized the Ainal Shriners three times in the past for their contribution to the bond program.

The 1976 program is expected to exceed the 1975 gift as each of the 36 Shrine clubs in Southern Illinois, along with the 37 units, works to exceed the 1975 goal the groups had set for themselves.

The Cardinal baseball game, where Ainal sells tickets with a $1 return for each ticket from the Baseball club, and the Hambleton race, where the Perry County Shrine Club sells newspapers, are two of the major contributors, providing nearly $10,000.

Many of the bonds are for $25 and $50, and are given by the Parent-Teacher Associations, Legion posts, luncheon clubs and similar groups.

Other bonds are from friends of the hospital. A $500 bond entitles the donor to have his name inscribed on the pages of a gold book at the hospital.

Some groups give $125 per year for three years in order to build the $500 bond for inclusion in the gold book.

Bob Cook, Bonds for Braces chairman, immediate past president of the Ainal Hospital

Unit, notes that more than 200 children per year are sent by Ainal to the Shriners Hospital in St. Louis. The figure is the annual average for the past five years.

This average puts Ainal in the top five of the 100 Shrine temples sending children to the 19 orthopedic Shrine hospitals. Ainal also had 84 clinic visits to the Cincinnati Burns Institute last year. This led the 97 temples that use the Ohio burns center.

"It takes more than $35 million per year to keep the 22 hospital open, and not one cent from insurance companies, the federal or state governments or any planned financial program is used in the support of the hospitals."

"The Shriners do the work and raise the funds that keep the hospitals going, along with wills and bequests from those interested in the work the hospital does," Popkess comments.

The presentation was made at a monthly board meeting at the hospital.

Twenty-one temples send children to the St. Louis unit, one of the largest of the 19 orthopedic hospitals, since it has 100 beds.

The Burns Institutes are in Galveston, Tex., Cincinnati, Ohio, and Boston, Mass.

Thompson lists contributors

Nearly 3,000 people have contributed a total of more than $364,000 to Citizens for Jim Thompson for Governor since Thompson announced his Republican candidacy July 1. Thompson said he is also expanding his policy of disclosing the names of contributors and the amounts of contributions on a day-to-day basis to include a monthly reporting statement to members of the news media.

"We are taking this extra step above and beyond the requirements of the Illinois Campaign Financing Act to assure voters that nobody owns Jim Thompson," Thompson said.

"We also want to assure voters of Illinois that we are doing everything we can to conduct an open, honest and decent campaign.

"Only through full disclosure of campaign financing can we help restore integrity to political campaigning," he said.

"Campaign financing has been shrouded in secrecy for far too long. It's time for a change."

Thompson has been disclosing daily the names of contributors and the amounts of contributions. That list is available in Thompson's state headquarters, 110 S. Dearborn Street, and it is open for anyone who wants to see it.

As of Wednesday, Dec. 31, 2,970 people had contributed a total of $364,779 to Thompson's campaign for governor.

Of that amount, $234,839 was contributed by 2,457 people who purchased tickets to the 1975 Jim Thompson for Governor Dinner that was held in the Conrad Hilton Hotel Nov. 20.

Thompson said that he did not believe that his open policy of reporting campaign contributions had hindered campaign fund raising. He said that some contributors had offered

Births, deaths drop in 1975

Births in the Quad-City area during 1975 decreased 9.1 per cent below those in 1974, while the number of deaths declined 15.4 per cent below last year's total, according to statistics compiled from reports by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

Reports show that a total of 376 births occurred in the Quad-City area last year, a reduction of 96, or 9.1 per cent, below 1,074 births reported during 1974.

A total of 400 deaths was reported in 1975, down 73, or 15.4 per cent, from the 473 deaths occurring in the area during the previous year.

Stevens' reports for the 12 months of the year showed a total of 11 fetal deaths in 1975, down 4, or 26.6 per cent, below 15 fetal deaths reported in 1974.

The city clerk reported there was a total of 85 births and 31 deaths during December, down from 96 births and 41 deaths in the same month a year previously. There was one fetal in December compared with two in December 1974.

News notes

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott ruled last week a private school or church may hold a retail liquor license but cannot sell liquor in or within 100 feet of its own building.

Governor Daniel Walker, who said last April his net worth is $356,818, last week assailed Secretary of State Michael Howlett, his primary election opponent, for not yet disclosing finances.

The Illinois Racing Board will decide Jan. 17 whether to award further 1976 horse race track dates. Executive Secretary William Masterson said that "we are now defunct" because the board cannot meet its Jan. 25 payroll for 95 employees unless there is a supplemental state appropriation.

An $860 million operating budget for state colleges and universities in 1976-77, up 11.7 per cent, was recommended last week by the Illinois Board of Higher Education, which also approved $977 million in capital improvements for that fiscal year, less than half the 1975-76 figure. It recommended public university tuition increases of $60 for undergraduate students and $90 for graduate students.

Fight $2,000 fire

Fire at 12:10 a.m. Wednesday caused an estimated $2,000 damage to the home of Jean Hutchinson, 8025 E. 25th St. Granite City firemen were on the scene one hour and 30 minutes.

The cause of the fire was not listed, but a heating defect is suspected. The fire loss included $1,500 to the building and $500 to its contents.

Illinois Bell to initiate Electronic switch system

Most Illinois Bell customers in Granite City soon will have the most modern equipment available in the Bell system, according to Ken Evers, Granite City manager of Illinois Bell. Illinois Bell ended its first year of operation in the Quad-Cities on Jan. 3.

Evers said that Jan. 17 has been set to place into service the city's Electronic Switching System (ESS) which will serve all business and residence customers whose telephone numbers begin with 451, 452, 876, and 877. He said about 16,500 customers are included in the service improvement.

Looking back over the first year, Evers indicated that it has been a year of growth for the city and Illinois Bell. The company noted a net gain of 2,000 telephones, bringing the number of telephones in service here to 42,200.

Contributing significantly to the economy of the area, the Bell System in 1975 spent a total of $1,894,334 in Granite City for wages, purchases and other payments.

As the company looks forward to the March birthday of the invention of the telephone, long distance calls from Granite City and other communities in the 818 Area Code region will be switching through the new Illinois Bell-AT&T Long Lines Switching Center which went into operation in Collinsville last fall.

This multi-million dollar switching facility was the end product of work of the Bell System partners — Illinois Bell, AT&T Long Lines, Western Electric and Bell Laboratories, Evers said.

Statewide, one of the big customer improvements in 1975 was the continuing expansion of Electronic Switching Systems such as the one in Granite City. Ten new ESS units, six of them replacing older electromechanical offices — were placed into service across the state this year. About 725,000 customer lines throughout the state are equipped with ESS.

The money for service improvements like ESS came from a total construction budget of $483.2 million, up $14.4 million from 1974. This marked the sixth straight year the company spent more than $1 billion daily to insure good telephone service.

The Telephone Pioneers of America, an employee community service organization, was active in Granite City and the surrounding area this year. Their 1975 projects included delivering more than 25 radios to handicapped and blind persons in the area to listen to WMMR's talking books program, participation in the Old News Boys day collecting $224 for a children's hospital, donation of money to the Empty Stomach fund in Belleville and made lock and hinge sets to be used in physical therapy by area children.

In 1975, Illinois Bell also: Opened its 42nd directory assistance office in May. This was the first office designed to provide operators access to telephone numbers by area.

Began serving customers from the Bell System's 100th Traffic Service Position System (TSPS) office which opened in Waukegan. Customers know TSPS as "Zero Plus" calling area codes. TSPS also makes direct dial calls formerly dialed by an operator.

'Masterpiece Theater' is tops on Channel 9

The Emmy-award-winning series, "Masterpiece Theater" during the year. It ranked in the annual poll of KETC-TV Channel 9 members. Membership Services Director Eileen Burke announced the week. The poll is conducted through ballots issued with the station's membership renewal notices each month. All ballots are taken at the end of the year.

"Masterpiece Theater" is currently featuring the popular "Upstairs Downstairs" story of the Bellamys and their servants at the outbreak of World War I. "Masterpiece Theater" airs 8 p.m. Fridays, and 8 p.m. Sundays.

Other programs which ranked high in the voting of Channel 9's supporting members included: "Evening at Symphony," "Ascent of Man," "Symphony Hall," and "The Best of Pops." Among high-scoring programs which are presently airing are: "Wall Street Week" (7:30 p.m. Fridays), "Firing Line" (6 p.m. Sundays), "Makings Things Grow" (5 p.m. Sundays), "Vanishing Wilderness" (6:30 p.m. Sundays), and "Washington Week in Review" (7 p.m. Fridays).

Twenty additional program ratings, in order of preference shown in the Channel 9 members' poll, were: The Great Chef, Romantic Rebellion, Monty Python, Consumer Survival Kit, Lillas, Yoga & You, Human sexuality Woman!, Soundstage, What Now America?, Carl Rogers on Marriage, Magic of Oil Painting, Inflation Gardening, The Way It Was, OPA!, The Letter People, Sight on Sounds, God of Our Fathers, Five String Banjo!, Cookin' Cajun and The Eyes Have It.

Of the top-ranking shows in the member poll, six are KETC-TV productions — Carl Rogers on Marriage, Inflation Gardening, OPA!, The Letter People, Sight on Sounds, and The Eyes Have It. Illustrating the diversity of interests among the financial supporters of Channel 9, the poll revealed that more than 60 other programs gained sufficient mention to win honorable mention in the voting — a category earned by six or more tallies.

The polling of KETC-TV members on favorite programming is one of several factors utilized in program scheduling on Channel 9, along with viewer response tabulations of all letters, phone calls, and telecourse enrollments received by KETC-TV during the year.

The top-ranking programs during recent viewer response tabulations have included "Consumer Survival Kit," which ranked 14th in the member poll; "Cookin' Cajun," which ranked 29th in the member poll; "Wall Street Week," which ranked sixth in the member poll; "Magic of Oil Painting," which ranked 21st in the member poll; and "OPA!", which ranked 24th in the member poll. Another viewer favorite, "Sesame Street," ranked 31st in the member ballot.

Warmed that rate relief was needed to continue to provide reliable telephone service, the company on March 7 last year asked the Illinois Commerce Commission for new rates which would increase its annual revenues by $78 million.

The commission has not made a decision on this request, and is not expected to until early 1976.

The company pointed out to the commission that 90 per cent of the requested increases could be for services which the customer could control: the number, distance and length of calls made, and the extensions, optional services available for homes or offices.

Coal gasification briefing tomorrow

The recently-announced $25 million, federally-funded coal gasification plant to be built at New Athens, Illinois will be the subject of a presentation to an industry group from Southern Illinois by Sidney M. Marder, director of energy development, Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development.

The dinner meeting will be held Tuesday at the Missouri Athletic Club, St. Louis, before the Southern Division of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Marder's division was responsible for the state's drive to win the major coal gasification project in competition with other states. The plant is designed to convert Illinois' high sulfur coal into fuel gas and liquid fuels.

Participating in the meeting with Marder will be top officials of Coalco, the consortium of Union Carbide Corporation and Chemico Inc., which is directing work on the coal-to-gas demonstration plant.

Coalco officials participating tomorrow will be Stanley Ness, president, and Coley, vice president, and Anthony Fazzari, assistant to the president.

IMA's Southern Division includes representatives of business and industrial firms in Madison, St. Louis, Monroe and adjacent counties.

Burglary at church, school

Teenagers are suspected of breaking into St. Margaret-Mary Church and School, 1800 St. Clair Ave., and stealing three microphones from the sanctuary. The burglary was discovered at 7:45 a.m. Saturday.

Several buildings were entered and police found two sets of footprints in the buildings. Two boys, ages 16 and 17, were stopped later Saturday outside the church and were questioned by juvenile authorities, but were released without charges being filed, pending further investigation.

One building was entered by breaking a north cafeteria window and prying a metal door between the kitchen and cafeteria.

Other buildings were entered by breaking three windows and kicking a skylight open. Doors from the hallway to the sanctuary were pried open and four microphones were removed.

One was found near a broken window and was taken by police for fingerprinting.

Nothing else was believed stolen.

Optimism

to invest substantial capital in facilities to meet environmental requirements.

"At Granite City Steel, we are constructing two emission control systems for capturing contaminants when finished coke is pushed from an oven into the air.

"Natal produces welded tubular steel products at its Bull Moose Tube Co. plant at Gerald, Mo.

"We will obtain further product diversification in tubular steel products with the opening in April of the National Pipe and Tube Co. plant, which will produce oil tubular goods at Liberty, Tex.

"Granite City Steel, as well as other divisions of National Steel, has begun an aggressive energy conservation program in oil operating departments.

"We are initiating measures to conserve fuel oil, natural gas, electrical power and gasoline in the various processes involved in producing iron and steel and manufacturing flat-rolled steel products," Love noted.

"Increased demand for steel late last year encourages us at Granite City Steel to look for improvement this year.

"With this in mind, we have blown in a second blast furnace in anticipation of at least a 15 per cent increase in steel industry shipments."

Reviewing the past 12 months, Love recalled that "the domestic steel industry was hit last year by recession and drastic inventory reduction.

"Manufacturers and other steel users cut back operations. They also used to the maximum extent possible their record inventories of steel.

"Customer inventories are now down to the lowest level in years.

"Steel industry shipments for 1975 will be about 81,000,000 tons. This is well below the 109,500,000 shipped in 1974 and the record 111,400,000 tons shipped in 1973.

"Lower volume always means lower profits in the steel industry.

"In 1975, the problem was compounded by the after-effects of price controls.

"The Oct. 1 price increases fell far short of compensating for escalating costs of raw materials and energy.

"By the third quarter of 1975, steel industry profits had all but disappeared.

"It was not until the fourth quarter that we began to see a pick-up in orders, although the impact on shipments will not be felt until the first quarter of 1976.

"Each recession tends to have its own particular characteristic.

"The 1973-1975 recession, the deepest and longest for the postwar period, was characterized by unprecedented inventory reduction but its inability to cure the inflation problem.

"While the imbalances caused by inflation have permeated the total economy, the steel industry has suffered the major brunt of the inventory reduction cycle in its cumulative effect.

"Steel consumers reduced not only steel inventories, but in-process and finished goods inventories to below normal levels because of liquidity problems—as well as the lack of confidence in the ability of the economy to recover.

"In our opinion, the inventory cycle has been largely completed. Inflation is still with us, but to a lesser degree.

"Confidence is still somewhat fragile. In view of the depth of the recession and world conditions generally, this is not surprising.

"But the economy is recovering and will continue on an upward path through 1976, led by the consumer with increased purchases of cars and other consumer goods.

"Housing will also show improvement but below what would be normal at this stage in the recovery.

"The consumer today is in a better position with respect to real income than has been in the last couple of years.

"Employment has increased, although unemployment, still some relatively high, is definitely on the way back to more normal rates of recovery."

Commissary surcharge is raised

The commissary surcharge in Army and Air Force operated commissaries worldwide will be increased to four per cent on Feb. 1. This will be a one per cent increase over the present hike, depending on the commissary's location.

A similar increase was made in August in Navy worldwide. The Department of Defense has approved the surcharge increase and indicates that the additional funds will be used to finance construction and improvement of commissary stores.

The price increase should eliminate the need for using appropriated funds for commissary construction and renovation, a spokesman said. Robert Nesbit, commissary officer at the St. Louis Area Support Center, Granite City Army Installation, says he expects the surcharge to have little or no effect on the volume of sales here.

Second burglary

The second break-in in two days at the Granite City Park District (Lincoln Place) Community Center was discovered at 10:15 a.m. Sunday.

Officials said the window putty was still wet from a break-in discovered Saturday and that the same plexiglass window removed in the first break-in also was removed the second time.

Sunday, officials found a cabinet containing dishes pried open, but nothing taken. A portable clock was taken from a desk and is the only item known to be missing.

BURGLARY IS HALTED
A neighbor saw a flashlight aimed at the home of Raymond Barr, 4 Terrace Lane, at 10:30 p.m. Sunday and called police who came immediately to the house and found it had been burglarized. The home was searched, but whoever was inside moments earlier had fled. It was not known if anything was stolen. An east bedroom window and a northeast breezeway window were broken and three doors were pried unopened when police arrived.

HURT IN ACCIDENT
Michael Jones, 27, of 4911 Kirkpatrick Homes, was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Hospital at 3:30 p.m. Thursday after an auto accident. The victim suffered injuries to the right side of the neck and to the forehead.

Mad firemen miss practice

Mad firemen and dirty trucks were the results of a Long Lake Fire Department practice Sunday, according to a police spokesman.

The firemen were holding a practice run and had just set an old barn on fire to practice putting it out, when they received a call at 9:05 a.m. of a fire on Snowbird Lane.

Leaving the old burning barn, the firemen answered the call, which turned out to be a false alarm.

When they returned to the practice site, the old barn already had burned down and was out.

The firemen then returned to the fire station and cleaned up their equipment.

O'FALLON MAN HURT
Terry Hillen, 18, O'Fallon, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:55 p.m. Thursday for injuries suffered in an auto accident. He suffered injuries to the left side of his head, around his eyes and to his nose and left knee. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Girl Scouts plan for Bicentennial

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

Brownies and Girl Scouts in the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council will mark the Bicentennial Year by participating in a variety of activities on a county, local and state-wide basis, according to the council officers.

Among the first events of interest will be a senior conference for all Senior and Cadette Girl Scouts, set Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 at Scott Air Force Base gym.

Theme of the two-day meeting is "76 and Scouting Mix." Sessions will be devoted to crafts and activities that were popular 200 years ago and the cost will be $8.75. Reservations must be made no later than Jan. 16 at the council office. It was reported.

"Colonial Capers" is planned for Sunday, Feb. 22, from 1 to 5 p.m. at St. Clair Square, Fairview Heights, for all levels of Girl Scouts.

The council office reported arrangements are being made to use displays, crafts, songs, demonstrations and dramatics, whereby the girls can share their knowledge of 1776 with each other and the general public.

Those wishing to take part in the historical program may wear their regular uniforms, colonial costumes or Bicentennial uniforms.

Participants will gather at 3 p.m. Feb. 22 in a designated area to sing patriotic songs, with the public invited to join in the singing.

To reserve space for a specific troop or group, reservations are required at the council office by Feb. 6, leaders advised.

District IV, which includes the Quad-City area, is making plans for the annual "Thinking Day" celebration, scheduled Sunday, Feb. 29, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from 2 to 4 p.m.

Since "Thinking Day" is a special day for Girl Scouts throughout the world, the International Student Organization at SIUE will help present a special program for the girls, hopefully, to share understanding of other people and cultures throughout the world, district chairmen reported.

Information also has been received at the River Bluffs Council office relating to a Bicentennial celebration and show at Busch Stadium, entitled "Spirit of '76 and Beyond." Taking place on July 17, all Boy and Girl Scouts in the bi-state area will be invited to participate.

A kickoff meeting is set for 10 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 31, in Building 33 auditorium at McDonnell-Douglas Corp., for adult troop leaders to receive more information about the mid-summer venture.

Troops interested in presenting acts in connection with the celebration may register prior to March 15, which allows four months to make costumes and rehearse their presentations. Participation will be by troop and not by individual boys and girls, it was announced.

Applications for troops wishing to perform at the July 17 celebration and brochures will be available at the kickoff assembly, council officers said.

Two get probation

Gregory E. Forsy, 19, and Diana Kaye Forsy, 19, both of the 800 block of Greenwood St., Madison, have been sentenced to serve probation terms after pleading guilty to delivery of a controlled substance to Illinois Bureau of Investigation undercover officers last year.

Diana Forsy was sentenced by Judge William L. Beatty to serve one year on probation. Gregory Forsy was sentenced to serve three years of probation, the first three months and the last three months being spent in jail.

The last three months of probation could be revoked by Beatty if he is satisfied with Forsy's probation period.

The sentences were in Madison County Circuit Court, where Alvin Wayne Moore, 35, Bridgeton, Mo., was found guilty by a jury late last week of violating his bail bond.

Sentencing is to be Friday when Moore also is to be sentenced for the armed robbery of the former Maryland 38-Rite Super Market, 2205 Pontoon Road, May 22, 1970. A jury also found him guilty of that robbery.

Both cases were heard before Judge Moses Harrison who has ordered a pre-sentence investigation before deciding the sentences.

Unveil statue of state's first woman legislator

Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state, will unveil a statue of the late State Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill at a special dedication ceremony at 2 p.m. Wednesday, on the second floor of the State Capitol Rotunda in Springfield.

He said the life size statue depicts Mrs. O'Neill early in her legislative career in the 1920s. "We are proud to unveil this beautiful likeness of the first woman legislator in Illinois history," said Howlett. "Mrs. O'Neill also is the first woman to be represented in the rotunda."

Abbott Pattison, internationally known sculptor, designed the statue.

Selection of Pattison to sculpt the statue followed a recommendation by a special committee. The group included then Sen. Esther Saperstein, Rep. Carolyn "Giddy" Giddy, Mrs. Donna Schiller, president of the Illinois League of Women Voters, and Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, an executive assistant and director of the commercial department in the secretary of state's office.

Pattison, a 1937 graduate of the Yale School of Fine Arts, maintaining studios in Winnetka, Ill., and Lincolnville, Maine.

The course is being conducted by Bob Boyd of the Chequamegon Squares, a widely-acclaimed dance group from the Quad-City area.

At the initial "mixer" session last week, an equal number of couples and single persons attended, according to Boyd.

The instructor said a "single corner" now is being formed for individuals who would like to learn the art of square dancing but who do not have a partner.

The class will meet each Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the YMCA. Cost of the course is 50 cents per person for Y members and $1 each for non-members.

ICU offers high level care

The purpose of the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth hospital is to provide and maintain a specialized clinical area, organized and operated to provide high-level nursing care for patients according to Sister Mary Michael McCulla, nursing service administrator and former head of the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeths.

Sister Mary Michael spoke to the Thursday morning meeting of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club in Charlie's Restaurant.

The concept of an intensive care unit originated in 1950 for treating heart problems.

At one time, the Sister related, 75 per cent of people with heart attacks in the United States died before they got to the hospital, and the remaining 25 per cent left, three-fourths of those died at the hospital.

With monitoring equipment and special nursing training ICU nurses receive, they frequently are able to detect and resolve a serious problem. "Nurses in an ICU unit have to be a very special type of person, in addition to having special training. Every patient is a potential crisis situation and it takes a nurse with a lot of personal self confidence and capabilities to work in the unit. An ICU nurse must be able to recognize and initiate life saving techniques within a matter of seconds," the Sister emphasized.

"An ICU unit is equipped with some very expensive equipment, but once you save a person's life with that equipment, you can't compare the cost of a machine with a person's life," she said.

Norman Kinder, president of the Breakfast Kiwanis, thanked Sister McCulla for speaking to the club and presented her with a certificate of appreciation.

Defends Reagan plan to refund money to states

Press-Record

Washington Bureau
Ronald Reagan's proposal to turn back $90 billion to the states was not bad, says Rep. Philip M. Crane, his Illinois campaign manager.

But then, neither was George McGovern's scheme to give everyone a thousand dollars, adds the conservative Illinois congressman who recently found himself in the unusual situation of defending both a far-right Republican and a way-left Democrat.

Interviewed on mutual broadcasting system's "Reporters Roundup," Crane was asked if both Reagan's and McGovern's plans were "so impractical as to be almost comic."

"No, I don't think they are, and I'm not even sure that George McGovern's proposal was comic," said Crane, volunteering that the public so perceived it.

Crane made the point that President Nixon's family assistance plan had a guaranteed income. "Frankly, he says, 'I was surprised that the Democrats let Republicans get away with clobbering McGovern with that guaranteed-income proposal when, in fact, the initial, guaranteed-income idea had come from the Republican incumbent.'"

Crane has probably laid out Reagan's $90 billion scheme better than the former California governor has himself. He views Reagan's treatment as a "broad, brush-stroke policy" and doubts that he will try to spell it out.

"This would require a working relationship between Congress and the President to implement it anyway, and I don't think it requires spelling out the particulars."

Crane thinks Reagan proposal—$90 billion refund, 23 per cent tax cut, and $8 billion surplus to help retire the national debt—is intended to make Congress and voters aware "that we must return control over our destinies in as many areas as possible to the local level and keep the money at home rather than let it be processed here."

What Reagan proposes basically is this, says Crane: Washington would retain programs such as social security, medicare, Medicaid, defense and justice while devising a means of "turning the power and the substance back to local levels of government and to the people themselves to make the determination (of) how many of the other programs they want to continue in their own interest, and to give them the wherewithal—the money back—so that they can spend that money as they see fit."

Crane says the program "would take years" to implement. But given an eight-

March for Life Jan. 22

More than 40 representatives from numerous area pro-life groups will rally for life at the third annual March for Life Jan. 22 in Washington, D. C. The delegation—representing Belleville Area Right to Life, Missouri Citizens for Life, Illinois Federation for Life, Nurses for Life (Missouri and Illinois Chapters), Lawyers for Life, Doctors for Life, and Alton Right to Life—will represent the metro area's pro-life sentiments and seek support for a Human Life Amendment to the Constitution.

This year's march on Jan. 22, marks the third anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision permitting abortion on demand. A pro-life march and rally asking for a Human Life Amendment has been held on this date in Washington, D. C., since 1974.

This year's program will begin the evening of Jan. 21 with a vigil and discussion meeting at the hotel. On Thursday, Jan. 22, the American Citizens Concerned for Life will sponsor a prayer breakfast.

U. S. representatives and senators have been invited to join their state delegation at the event. Later in the morning, delegates from across the nation will attend the Rally for Life in Lafayette Park across from the White House with pro-life speakers calling on President Ford to support a Human Life Amendment.

He now supports a states' right amendment, which would bring the power to prohibit or permit abortion back to each individual state similar to the period before the 1973 Supreme Court decision.

The March for Life from the White House down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Capitol will begin at noon. Marchers will form a Circle of Life around the Capitol assembling on the West Terrace for speeches by congressmen and pro-life leaders. Lobbying in Congress and visiting representatives and senators will fill the day.

The Washington flight, sponsored by two local pro-life groups, is open to the public and members of all pro-life groups in Missouri, Illinois and adjoining states. Group rates make the price moderate—$102 for the round trip airfare ticket. Hotel accommodations at the L'Enfant Plaza Hotel, Washington, D. C. will vary according to occupancy. The $8 prayer breakfast is optional.

Room is still available and reservations are being accepted for the march, John C. Henry, St. Mary's Hospital, 129 North 8th St., East St. Louis, (telephone 274-1900, ext. 279) reports.

SIUE opponents to tuition hike say rise would cut enrollment

Tuition increases proposed by the staff of the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) will make higher education unattainable for a large number of qualified persons in the state, according to Emil Jason, assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and chairman of the University's task force assigned to fight the proposals.

Speaking at a news conference last week on the SIUE campus, Jason said the proposed increases are "contrary to the spirit and intent of the Higher Education Student Assistance Law." Jason presented statistical evidence to prove that enrollments decline at institutions of higher learning when tuition is increased.

The SIUE Board of Trustees is on record as favoring low tuition and equal access to higher education, and the SIUE task force was asked by the board to represent the SIUE System at public hearings scheduled around the state this month on the tentative draft of Master Plan Phase IV. The plan proposes increasing undergraduate tuition to a level equaling one-third of instructional costs, and graduate school tuition would be one-third higher than undergraduate tuition.

The plan also provides that undergraduate tuition waivers not exceed two percent of the school's "annual full-time equivalent undergraduate enrollment."

Jason said the IBHE staff recommendations would have the greatest impact on working-class and middle-income families, in the $10,000 to $20,000 range.

"The approach recommended by the IBHE staff is one of increasing tuition to meet certain rising costs, then attempting to ease the financial burden with increased aid to low-income students," Jason said.

"The result would create a situation whereby the middle-income families will be faced with the most severe financial hardship because students from these families are eligible for little, if any, student financial aid."

"Students who do not qualify for some form of financial aid may transfer out of the public university system, drop out of education entirely, or reduce their courses in order to work more," Jason stated.

TUITION INCREASE OPPOSED. Emil Jason, assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is chairman of the SIUE system's task force assigned to fight tuition increases proposed by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. A statewide campaign was launched with a news conference on the SIUE campus last week.

"In the long run, society as a whole loses if financial barriers, such as the proposed tuition increase, narrow access to higher education to only those who can easily afford it, or those who can qualify for student aid," the task force chairman added.

Jason charged that the proposed tuition increase and tuition waiver limitation could cause hardships on universities with a significant percentage of low-income and minority students. "In effect, this proposed action would penalize those institutions that are currently maintaining special programs designed to increase access of blacks and other minorities at major four-year universities," Jason said.

Jason suggested that "a flexible and liberal tuition waiver policy administered by the institutions rather than the Illinois State Scholarship Commission would increase access to four-year universities by minority and low-income students."

Citing a student survey by the Illinois Economic Financial Commission, Jason said the evidence shows that enrollments would decline if tuition is increased. According to the survey, 88 per cent would drop out of school. Eleven per cent would likely drop out, but would consider trying to earn enough money to return to school.

Jason cited another survey, by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, which shows the number of students enrolled in college from families earning $10,000 to $14,999 declined nearly 20 per cent in the four-year period, 1969 to 1973. College enrollment in the $15,000 and over income group declined by only 8.2 per cent in the same period.

Four specific examples of the effect of tuition changes on enrollment were given by the SIUE task force chairman. He said Northern Illinois University reduced its credit hour tuition for continuing and extension courses from $30 to $18. Following the tuition reduction, part-time enrollment jumped 50 per cent.

SIUE increased tuition for out-of-state students from $206 to $298 in academic year 1970-71. Out-of-state enrollment declined about 16 per cent, Jason said. In another example, he said State Community College doubled tuition in academic year 1972-73, and enrollment decreased 15 per cent the following year.

Jason emphasized, however, that community colleges generally have low tuition compared with four-year institutions, and "community college enrollment increased almost 500 per cent during the period 1965-1975, indicating a high correlation between enrollment and low tuition."

Jason pointed to two national organizations which favor low or free tuition. "The AFL-CIO Executive Council holds that an educated citizenry is a national asset, and the costs of education should be paid by society," he said. "And the board of directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People adopted a resolution in September 1975 which supports the concept of no or low tuition in order to assure equal access to higher education."

Citing the "dedication and loyalty of Illinois citizens to the educational cause," the task force chairman said he believes "this investment in the educational process has resulted in a great many benefits to the State of Illinois in terms of growth and development. The benefits of higher education have touched every industry, every business, every government agency, and every community in the state."

BAC cosmetology course available at local school

A 1,500-hour certificate program in cosmetology is now being offered by Belleville Area College through the Granite City School of Beauty Culture, 1815 Edison Ave.

Classes started last week and a new class is now being formed to begin March 8. Subsequent classes will start every two months.

Prospective students interested in registering for the March 8 class should contact the Granite City School of Beauty Culture immediately. Registration for all classes is required a minimum of 30 days prior to instruction commencing, according to Earl Tucker, owner-operator of the local beauty school.

All aspects of the cosmetology course will be taught at the Granite City school, with students not required to attend any classes or undergo testing at BAC's main campus in Belleville, Tucker said. Students must be high school graduates or have a GED equivalency certificate to take part in the BAC extension program here. Further information may be obtained at the local school, or by calling 876-5432.

Of the other schools in the 10-team tournament, — East St. Louis Lincoln, Collinsville, East St. Louis Senior, Cahokia, East St. Louis Assumption and O'Fallon — South High has defeated in regular season competition both Collinsville and Cahokia.

GCHS North, coached by Sharon Bloodworth, opened the Dupu district at 7 p.m. today against East St. Louis Lincoln.

North High is undefeated, 3-0, going into this evening's contest, having topped two of the entries, East St. Louis Lincoln and Madison.

Madison, coached by Luvenia Long, is in its first season of girls' volleyball and has an 0-4 mark, having lost to East St. Louis Senior High, GCHS North, East St. Louis Lincoln and Alton.

Madison plays East St. Louis at 8:30 p.m. today following the North-Lincoln contest.

Tomorrow, GCHS South plays the winner of today's Lincoln-North contest at 7 p.m., and Collinsville and Assumption collide at 8:30 p.m.

Venice hopes to repeat as Sparta tourney champion

Three former Sparta: Mid-Winter Classic tournament champions are among the entries this week in Sparta's 12th annual basketball meet, including last year's tournament winner and reigning state Class A champion, Venice.

Competing also will be Marissa, Freeburg, Okawville, Sparta, Campbell Hill (Trio) and Waterloo.

Past Sparta tournament champions were: Sparta 1965, Cahokia 1966, DuQuoin 1967, Sparta 1968, Sumner of St. Louis 1969, Sparta 1970, East St. Louis Lincoln 1971-72, Campbell Hill 1973, DuQuoin 1974 and Venice 1975.

Coach Richard Essington's Red Devils last year swept to championships in three tournaments — Freeburg, Sparta and Dupu — en route to the state title.

As the tournament's top-seeded team, Venice has drawn a first-round bye and will not see action until Thursday evening.

Okawville; Freeburg and Waterloo are seeded second, third and fourth.

Opening the action today will be Okawville and Sparta at 7:30 p.m.

Competition resumes tomorrow with Marissa meeting Freeburg at 7 p.m., followed by Campbell Hill playing Waterloo at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Venice will meet the victor of tomorrow's Marissa-Freeburg contest at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the semifinals.

Another semifinal game will be played at 8:30 p.m. Friday between the winners of Okawville-Sparta and Campbell Hill-Waterloo.

A victory Thursday would pit Venice against the victor of Friday's semifinal contest in the tournament championship game at 9 p.m. Saturday.

A semifinal loss by Venice on Thursday would result in the Red Devils playing at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for third place.

Consolation contests for first-round losers are slated for 7 p.m. Thursday and 6 p.m. Friday.

Braves, Chiefs, Gators 1-2-3 in mat tournament

Prather's Chiefs were second with 113 points, and Grigsby's Gators were third with 107½.

Combined, the three local junior high schools won 24 of the 40 bouts.

Coolidge, in additions, to taking the championship ribbon, carried away nine individual medals. Prather earned seven medals and Grigsby eight.

Finishing behind the three leaders were Mascoutah with 87 points, Collinsville 86, Murphysboro 17 and Bethalto with 17 points.

REBOUND BY STEELER Tom Schocker (40) here Saturday night as GCHS North hosts the Mater Dei basketball Knights of Breese, Ill. Two visiting players in the foreground also were in a position to compete for the carom off the backboard, but Schocker retrieved the ball. North led 73-62 at the time and won 80-66.

Rebounding aids Steeler win

Rebounding was the name of the game for the GCHS North Steelers Saturday night, as Coach Bill Ohlendorf's Steelers defeated visiting Mater Dei of Breese 80-66. North led 18-9, 39-28 and 60-42 at the quarters.

The Steelers controlled the boards, recovering 38 rebounds to the Knights' 19, including 16 North rebounds in the first half of play.

Seven straight field goals gave the Steelers a 14-4 lead midway through the opening period.

The Steelers pulled down four straight off the backboards in opening minutes of the second quarter and converted three of them into baskets for a 24-9 lead as they appeared to decide the outcome of the game early.

Mater Dei pulled to within six points of the Steelers on four free throws and four field goals, at 27-21, until North connected with four straight baskets to lead 35-21.

Five straight turnovers then hurt the Knights, but they reduced their deficit to 11 points at halftime.

Mater Dei opened the third period with two straight goals but the Knights later foundered on seven missed shots.

Mater Dei took advantage of 12 Steeler turnovers in the final period to put 24 points on the scoreboard to North's 20 and never gave up battling. But the 16-point difference after three quarters proved too much to overcome. From the floor, the Steelers hit 30 of 60 shots and Mater Dei 25 of 59.

Steelers Tim Luehmman scored 12 of his team's game total of 20 charity tosses and the Knights hit on 16 of 24. Fouls were plentiful, the Knights committing 23 and North 19.

Rodney Wortham pulled down 11 rebounds and Tom Schocker 10 for the Steelers. Turnovers were nearly equal — Mater Dei 26 and North 24. Five Steelers scored in double figures — Schocker 22, Wortham and Rick Spurlock 15 each, and Larry Schleicher and Luehmman 14 points each.

Cahokia edges South

GCHS South cagers led visiting Cahokia 10-4 Friday evening at the end of the first period of play, but were blocked off the boards in the second quarter by the Comanches and were able to muster only two field goals in nine attempts to trail 17-15 at halftime. Final score was a 42-36 Comanche victory.

Cahokia built a 10-point lead during the third period for a 33-23 advantage. The Warriors outscored their opponents 13-9 in the final quarter but could not catch up.

The Comanches held the margin from the floor with 17 baskets to South's 14 field goals. Each side put eight charity tosses through the net.

Each basketball team committed 13 fouls and Cahokia recovered 35 rebounds to South's 19 to aid in controlling the game.

Scoring for the Warriors were Jim Nolan with 11 points, Frank Holmes 10, Terry Angle six, John Slay four, Rick Fancher three and Mike McFadden, two.

Gerald Washington's 15 points paced the victorious visitors.

SIUE in Arena contest tonight

In the second contest, the St. Louis University Bills play host to the Iowa State U. Cyclones at 8:30.

Last year at this time, both the Cougars and Oakland City were top contenders for a post-season Midwest regional tourney berth, and both lost out to the Youngstown (Ohio) University Penguins. This season, the going has been rough for both Oakland and SIUE; the Cougars are 3-6, while their foes are 3-9.

It is rebuilding year for both schools. One common opponent

Trojans stop Notre Dame five

Madison's Trojans contributed to Quincy Notre Dame's losing streak, downing the visitors 82-65 Friday night after leading at the quarters 17-4, 40-30 and 63-47.

Madison now has a 10-2 record and Quincy is 10-5.

The host Trojans shot seven of 16 from the floor in the first period while holding Quincy to only two of 12 field goals as MHS quickly established its dominance.

Madison made good 35 of 65 shots from the floor during the game and Quincy 23 of 58.

The visitors edged the hosts at the foul line, 18-12. And Quincy committed the fewest fouls, 28-17, and fewest turnovers, 20-8.

On the boards, paced by Randall Jones' eight rebounds and Ron Jones' seven, Madison pulled down 42 missed shots to Quincy's 24.

The Jones brothers also led the team in scoring, Randall with 21 points and Ron with 20. Participating in the victory also were Joe Gulash with 11 points, Edwin Garrett and Ron Williams eight each, Danny Bankhead seven, Rodney Davis four and Kenny Boyd, one.

Led by 29 points earned by Jaffee Woolfork and 24 more by James Turner, the Venice Red Devils downed Quincy Notre Dame Friday 87-79 at Venice.

And on Saturday night on the road, Venice downed Altamont 72-38.

The Red Devils jumped to a 24-18 lead at the end of the first quarter over Quincy and led 43-34 at halftime. Notre Dame edged Venice 22-20 on points in the third period for a 63-56 score but the Red Devils added to their lead in the closing minutes.

Venice held the margin from the floor, 39-36, and from the free throw line, 9-7. Quincy committed the most fouls, 19-14.

Other than Woolfork and Turner, scoring for Venice were Reggie Gardner with 17 points, Larrick Arnold nine, James Crowder four, and Ricky Salmond and Ron Salmond two each.

Against Altamont, Woolfork again poured 29 points through the net, including 15 in the first quarter which helped the Red Devils to a 21-12 lead.

The Red Devils prevailed 37-21 at halftime and 56-29 entering the final quarter.

Both teams matched basket-for-basket at the start of the game, with Venice taking a two-point margin, 6-4, on a field goal by Gardner.

A basket by James Turner gave Venice a four-point spread, and five straight baskets by Woolfork helped put Venice on top 18-4.

The hosts narrowed the margin to 18-12 before Gardner added a basket and Woolfork a free throw to conclude the first period.

Woolfork and Gardner teamed inside under the basket to give the Red Devils board control and a one-two scoring punch.

Gardner garnered 16 points in the contest.

From the field, Venice hit 32 goals to Altamont's 18, and the Red Devils held the edge at the foul line, 8-2. Venice committed the fewest fouls, 8-11.

Delete most of proposed SIUE building projects

The Illinois Board of Higher Education (BIHE) has adopted budget recommendations for Illinois universities and colleges for fiscal year 1977, July 1976 to June 1977, including $32,519,200 for operations and grants and $1,520,000 for capital improvements for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The proposals, approved last week at the January BIHE meeting in Chicago, will be sent to the Illinois General Assembly and governor for consideration at sessions scheduled later this month.

The recommendation for SIUE operational funds is 88.7 per cent of the amount requested by the university, while the capital budget recommendation is only 71 per cent of the university's request.

Major features of the BIHE recommendations include tuition increases of $60 for undergraduate students and $90 for graduate students, with the additional tuition revenues to fund two per cent of recommended salary and price increases.

The BIHE proposed budget includes average salary hikes of seven per cent, with an additional two per cent for low-salaried employees.

Capital projects approved by the BIHE for the local university include: completion of classroom buildings II and III ($250,000); installation of fume hood ventilation system in Science Building ($150,000); renovation of Broadview Hotel Building at East St. Louis ($315,000).

Remodeling academic core buildings for handicapped students; masonry repairs to core buildings ($100,000); renovation of various buildings at the School of Dental Medicine, Alton campus, ($452,000); and resurfacing of drives and roads ($100,000).

BIHE also recommended $1,500,000 of the university's requested $2,123,000 for educational facilities. The recommendation is for appropriation of capital development bond funds for this purpose.

House Bill 233, currently awaiting final General Assembly action, appropriates $1,500,000 for this project. If the bill becomes law, a new appropriation will not be required.

The BIHE did not recommend the university's request for funds for three major new buildings to house physical education, fine arts and nursing and life sciences.

The BIHE also turned down a student theater building, remodeling the Communications Building theater and auditorium, remodeling and rehabilitating Wagner buildings, a high service pump for water supply, and funds for a master plan for the Alton campus.

In addition to funds for salary and price increases, the BIHE recommended for SIUE includes increases for operation and maintenance of new buildings ($495,400); institutional support ($680,200); and other needs ($26,700).

In each category, the recommended funds are not more than 55 per cent of the amount requested by the university.

Increases for institutional programs include $70,000 for the Environmental Resources Training Center, $24,000 for the bachelor of fine arts in art and design, $35,000 for the supplemental instructional program, $40,000 for the master of science in environmental studies, $20,000 for the master of science in urban studies, $45,000 for nursing and $165,000 for the School of Dental Medicine.

The BIHE approved $70.8 million, or 89.5 per cent of the requested amount, in operating funds for SIUE at Carbondale. The BIHE recommendation in capital funds for SIUE is $13.4 million, or 32.6 per cent of the amount requested by the university.

For the entire state, the BIHE recommended $860.6 million in state-appropriated funds for operations and grants in fiscal year 1977, an increase of 11.7 per cent.

Requests totaled $926.9 million, a 20.4 per cent increase over fiscal 1976.

The BIHE recommended a capital budget of $97.9 million for all the state's universities and colleges. Requests totaled $247.8 million.

The statewide budget projects an increase of $85.6 million in state general revenue fund support, an increase of 12.7 per cent from fiscal 1976; an increase of $12.1 million or 14.9 per cent in the universities income fund; and a decrease of $7.2 million from fiscal 1976 in other appropriated funds.

$3.5 billion in Social Security benefits paid Illinoisans during 1975

A record $3.5 billion was paid out in Social Security cash benefits to residents of Illinois in calendar year 1975, according to William Kerr, district manager.

An 8 per cent benefit increase effective June 1975, an increased number of people on the Social Security rolls, and benefits payable based on high-average earnings, all contributed to the increased payments.

Of the Social Security benefits paid to beneficiaries in Illinois during 1975, $2.3 billion went to retired workers and their dependents and $880,000 to the survivors of workers who have died. Another $350,000 was paid to severely disabled workers and their dependents.

Nationally, Social Security cash benefit payments in 1975 totaled $67 billion. This was about $8.4 billion higher than in the previous year.

At the end of December 1975, about 32 million men, women, and children were receiving monthly Social Security benefits. The number of persons on the benefit rolls increased over a million during the course of the year, Kerr said.

Retired workers and their dependents accounted for about 64 per cent of all those receiving payments. The survivors of workers who have died, including children and their widowed mothers, aged or disabled widows and widowers, and aged dependent parents, make up 25 per cent of all those receiving Social Security payments. Another 13 per cent are disabled workers and their dependents.

Social Security is not only a program for the elderly, Kerr said. Almost 24 per cent of all beneficiaries are under age 60, and 15 per cent are under age 22.

Pajamahour at Library now held Thursday

The Pajamahour, an evening storyhour for preschoolers, kindergartners and first graders, has been changed to Thursday evenings at 7 in the Children's Room of the Granite City Public Library, according to Susan Rardin, children's librarian.

After-school activities for children from second grade through sixth grade meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 3:30 p.m. at the Children's Room. Making Things Yourself, a craft hour of a wide variety of activities, meets on Tuesdays.

Examples of things children have made are Christmas ornaments, pomander balls, three-dimensional newspaper sculptures, and spool and rubberband-powered cars, Miss Rardin said.

Puppetmaking and puppetizing meets on Wednesdays. Some children are working on plays to present at the evening Pajamahour while others are still making puppets. The group soon will begin making simple marionettes.

Needpoint for beginners meets on Thursdays. Those who have already started have planned their own designs and begun to learn basic stitches. Children are welcome to join any activity on any day, Miss Rardin noted.

Dog obedience class at Y

Harold Cavins, owner of Maha's Lahasia, a registered kennel, is teaching a dog obedience class at the Tri-City Area YMCA. The class meets on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m.

The course includes dog care, history, fundamentals of dog care, grooming and five commands. Even problem dogs can be dealt with, biter, shy dogs, and others, according to Mike Tharp, program director. The owners will need a leash and a choke for the class, he said.

Harold and his wife have shown dogs for over 15 years, both in obedience and confirmation classes. Those attending the class for the first time should attend without their dogs. Dogs will be brought to the second class meeting.

Cost for the course is 50 cents per night for "Y" members and $1.50 per night for non-members.

For more information, Quad-Cityans may stop by the "Y" at 3001 Edison Ave. or call 878-7200. The Y is a United Way agency.

Alcoholism treatment, living centers for disabled planned

More than 200,000 persons in Illinois received mental health services during 1975 in state-operated centers or at state-supported facilities in communities, according to LeRoy P. Levitt, M.D., director, Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities.

He reported that last year, $80.2 million was allocated for grants-in-aid and for purchase of care for more than 400 community agencies which operate one thousand programs for mentally ill and developmentally disabled citizens.

Dr. Levitt said, "More people today than ever before in the history of Illinois have access to mental health services."

"We are spending millions of dollars to provide effective community treatment in a double-barreled effort to help people stay out of institutions and to get people in our hospitals out as soon as they are ready."

"For those who need short-term care in an institution or who are chronically ill, we are improving state mental health and developmental centers at an unprecedented rate."

In the past year, $12 million worth of improvements were started, mainly at the older of the state's 28 facilities. The improvements are to make living there more comfortable, safer and more enjoyable, he said.

At Dixon Developmental Center, 21 patient buildings are under renovation at a cost of $2 million. Egin Mental Health Center has a $650,000 project, Lincoln Developmental Center $750,000 worth of work and the Jacksonville Mental Health and Developmental Center a $750,000 project.

In-patient population in 1975 declined to less than 15,000 compared to more than 14,000 in 1974. It is divided almost evenly between mentally ill patients and developmentally disabled residents.

The director said planning was begun last year to build six specialized living centers for developmentally disabled persons. The $15 million project will provide residential living for up to 100 persons at each center.

The centers will be constructed by the Capital Development Board and then turned over for operation by community groups in Springfield, Addison, Rockford, Swansea, Moline and Chicago's south side.

In 1975, fifteen of the state's centers were accredited or reaccredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals making a total of 17.

Dr. Levitt said a significant achievement was the one-to-one patient-staff ratio in each hospital reached last year for the first time in departmental history.

Last year, the department opened three new centers and a fourth, a modern, 360-bed maximum security hospital at Chester, was completed and will be occupied in early 1976.

The others are: Henry Horner Children and Adolescents Center, Chicago, built at a cost of $10 million to care for 130 mentally ill and 40 developmentally disabled youngsters.

Waukegan Developmental Center, costing $10 million for separate homes in a campus setting to help 384 severely and profoundly retarded persons six years and older.

William A. Howe Developmental Center, Tinley Park, designed for 400 developmentally disabled adults. The center cost $7.2 million.

In other developments, the director noted: "Discriminization of alcoholism under the Illinois Alcoholism and Intoxication Treatment Act resulted in the creation of the Division of Alcoholism within the department, headed by Superintendent Roalda 'Jenny' Alderman."

"A statewide network of community-based treatment centers is being established to help alcohol abusers in lieu of sending them to jail."

"In conjunction with the Dangerous Drugs Commission, the Department's Illinois Drug Abuse Program annually serves more than 5,000 heroin addicts and other drug abusers at nine state-operated and 26 contractual clinics."

"The final version of the five-year plan designating proposed departmental policy, operations and administration is in preparation following nine public hearings held in all sections of the state."

On state civil service panel

Ruth S. Eidson, secretary in the Business Affairs office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been elected by civil service employees as the SUIE representative to the State Civil Service Employees Advisory Committee, an advisory committee that makes recommendations to the University Civil Service System of Illinois and represents all university civil service personnel throughout the state.

There are 18 members on the committee, each representing one of the state-supported universities and agencies under the system. Committee representatives serve 25,000 supportive staff employees. At SUIE, there are 900 civil service employees.

Mrs. Eidson has been employed in the Business Affairs Division at SUIE since 1962 and has served on the advisory committee seven years. Her new four-year term on the committee begins this month. Meetings are held quarterly, but Mrs. Eidson, who is active on numerous subcommittees, says her post requires much travel, especially now, as a great deal of homework.

She adds that even though the job comes with headaches, "I became involved because there is a tendency to overlook the vital and necessary services performed by the supportive staff within educational institutions and agencies. It is a challenge, and I feel that, if appropriate, recommend revisions to improve the UCS rules governing personnel administration."

Due to her position on the state committee, Mrs. Eidson is an ex-officio member of the Non-Academic Employees Advisory Council at SUIE. She and her husband, James, employ Alton Box Board Co., have three children and two grandchildren.
